Bad Stomach Makes Bad Blood.

You can not make sweet butter in a foul, unclean churn. The stomach serves as a churn in which to agitate, work up and disintegrate our food as it is being digested. If it be weak, sluggish and foul the result will be torpid, sluggish liver and bad, impure blood.

The ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are just such as best serve to correct and cure all such derangements. It is made up without a drop of alcohol in its composition; chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol. Now this glycerine is of itself a valuable medicine, instead of a deleterious agent like alcohol, especially in the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia and the various forms of indigestion. Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of it:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. * * * It is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs; especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach). It is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric acidity. It is useful in chronic intestinal dyspepsia, especially the flatulent variety, and in certain forms of chronic constipation, stimulating the secretory and excretory functions of the intestinal glands."

When combined, in just the right proportions, with Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Queen's root, Blood root and Mandrake root, or the extracts of these, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, there can be no doubt of its great efficacy in the cure of all stomach, liver and intestinal disorders and derangements. These several ingredients have the strongest endorsement in all such cases of such eminent medical leaders as Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Hobart A. Hare, M. D., of Medical Department, University of Pa.; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Medical Department, University of New York; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D. and Prof. John King, M. D., Authors of the American Dispensatory, and scores of others among the leading medical men of our land.

Who can doubt the curative virtues of a medicine the ingredients of which have such a professional endorsement?

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundancy.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

AN HISTORIC LETTER OF GENERAL ROBERT E. LEE.

The following letter written by General Lee in the year 1868 is reproduced from The Outlook of last week, with the title is given by and the most appreciative foreword of the editors of that well known and influential weekly magazine. The letter should be published far and wide as a noble testimony among thousands to the character of General Lee, when called upon to give a decision in matters involving the sacredness of trusts which were offered to him. It is especially fitting that this letter should be published in the newspaper which has recorded for so many years the life of the city which is proud to claim him as her own citizen in the earlier days of his life, and which in common with the rest of Virginia and the world is to celebrate so shortly the centenary of his birth.

A SPLENDID EXAMPLE.

[The following letter from General Robert E. Lee comes to us through a personal friend of the Lee family, and it is of extraordinary interest not only as throwing light on the scrupulous honor and personal modesty of the writer, but also as a singularly cogent example in these days of insurance scandals of the right attitude of companies and individuals toward their sacred trust. It will be remembered that General Lee wrote this letter only two years after the war, when he was broken in health and devoid of resources, with a family dependent on his efforts and upon his modest salary as President of Washington College.

The Editors.

Lexington, Va., Dec. 20, 1868.

Dear Mr. B——:—

I am very much obliged to you for your letter of the 12th and the kind interest you have shown in my welfare. I approve highly of your views, and especially of your course, and feel satisfied that you will accomplish great good. I have considered Mr. F——'s proposition and though I believe that the establishment in Richmond by the Universal Life Insurance Companies of a branch office, on the plan proposed, would be attended with much benefit, I do not think that I am the proper person for the position of managing director. The secure investment of the funds accruing from the Southern business in the present condition of affairs, it seems to me, would be attended with great trouble, and should be managed with great care. In my present position I fear I should not have time, even if I possess the ability, to conduct it. Life insurance trusts I consider sacred. To hazard the property of the dead, and to lose the scanty earnings of fathers and husbands who have toiled and saved that they may leave something to their families, deprived of their care and the support of their labor, is to my mind the worst of crimes. I could not undertake such a charge unless I could see and feel that I could faithfully execute it. I have therefore felt constrained, after deliberation, to decline the proposition of Mr. F——. I trust that the company may select some better man for the position, for I think in proper hands it would accomplish good. For your interest in my behalf, and for Mr. L——'s kind consideration, I am very grateful. And with my thanks to both of you, and to Mr. F—— for his kindness, to whom I trust you to explain the reason of my course, I am, Truly yours,

R. E. LEE

Lourdes Grotto to be Sequestered.

The French government is reported by the Paris Temps to have notified the Bishop of Tarbes that the Lourdes grotto and the property connected with it are to be sequestered under the separation act.

Sometime ago the property in connection with the shrine was turned into a limited liability company. It now appears that the government regards this action as a subterfuge to evade the operation of the separation act.

The closing of the grotto would practically ruin to the district, apart from the serious loss of contributions to the church made by pilgrims.

Three hundred thousand people visit Lourdes every year and they have to be fed and lodged. The whole countryside is dependent on the money spent by the pilgrims. If the grotto is closed Lourdes will be reduced to a poor small town.

The Lourdes is one of the chief places of Catholic pilgrimage in Europe, in the Department of Hautes-Pyrenees, France, on the right bank of the Gave de Pau, 90 miles by rail east by southeast of Bayonne. It is a small town commanded by an old fortress, now used as a prison. There are many grottoes and marble quarries in the vicinity. The fame of the Lourdes dates from the reputed apparition of the Virgin to the 14-year-old Bernadette Soubirous, in 1858.

The grotto near which the apparition took place is now surrounded by a magnificent church, built in accordance with the wish of the Virgin, and containing numerous banners, shields, medallions, tablets and other precious gifts from pilgrims. These number about 300,000 every year.

Near the grotto is the miraculous spring, the water of which is diverted into several basins, in which the ailing pilgrims bathe. The water is also exported in bottles. Economically the town is entirely dependent upon the pilgrims, and the chief products are various souvenirs, mostly of a religious character and marble. The population in 1901 was 8,708.

A Tragic Finish.

A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North Sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth McIver, of Veneeboro, Me., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a large tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery. He writes: "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation caused by a neglected cold; but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life.' Guaranteed best cough and cold cure at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

CREMATED IN HOT LEAD.

One of the worst explosions in the history of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Works at Pittsburg, Pa., occurred last night about 7 o'clock at the Eliza Furnaces, when a large quanity of gas, which had accumulated at the base of the furnaces, became ignited and exploded. Tons of molten metal were showered around the furnace for a radius of 40 feet, in some spots to a depth of four or five feet. Out of a force of 35 men employed at the furnace when the explosion occurred, three—John Cramer, Andrew Featherka and Gustave Keisler—have been taken to the morgue, their bodies horribly mutilated by the fire. Seven men are in hospitals, fatally injured, and 24 others have not been accounted for.

While the mill officials are inclined to believe that all the missing men are not cremated in the molten metal, nothing definite is known as to their present whereabouts. Only one, man George Knox, has turned up since the explosion, and he says everything happened so quickly that he doubts that any other man escaped.

Chief Peter Snyder, of the fourth fire district, was seriously injured while directing the fireman to extinguish the fire which followed the explosion. Snyder was stationed on a trestle 30 feet high when he slipped and fell to the ground, injuring himself internally.

While responding to the alarm a hose carriage was struck by a street car, seriously injuring two of the fireman and killing a horse. The windows of the street car were shattered, and a panic followed among the passengers. The women were injured by being trampled.

The scenes about the entrance of the mill were pathetic when the families of the victims learned of the disaster. Women, men and children gathered before the gate and made frantic efforts to gain admittance. Several of the frenzied women rushed upon the officers and fought them, crying to be allowed to enter the mill and see their loved ones. Young children ran up and down the streets crying that their father was dead. Later it became necessary to call additional police to forcibly escort the women and children to their homes.

The officials at the mills refused to allow anyone to enter the yard where the furnace is located. All information was refused to newspaper men, the official saying that later they might issue a statement. A heavy guard of foreign workmen was placed at the yard entrance, and even the police were powerless to get past the foreigners.

Further investigation today shows that seven men lost their lives in the accident.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, JAN. 10. 1907.

THE PRESIDENT, it is said, will soon send a special message to Congress, urging the prompt passage of legislation authorizing the negotiation of reciprocal tariff treaties with Germany. Something must be done immediately to bring about a settlement of the tariff differences between the United States and Germany, or there will be a large falling off in American trade with that country. A modus vivendi providing for the minimum tariff rates on American goods going into Germany is now in effect, but this expires March 1, on which date the German government will enforce its maximum tariff rate against American goods exported into Germany. In order to reach a basis of settlement of the trouble the President sent a commission of tariff experts to Germany, at the head of which is Director of the Census North. This commission is now at work and has nearly completed its task. When Germany puts into effect her new tariff laws the farmers, especially of this country, will be struck another blow.

COSTS OF production are jealously guarded by manufacturers, and especially by the trusts, which have reduced the cost of production to the lowest terms, but made no corresponding reductions of their selling prices. In the oil case in Missouri an independent producer testified that the cost of refining, instead of being a cent and a half, as a witness for the oil trust testified, was only half a cent. He was selling refined oil at much less than trust prices, and he offered to reduce his price still further if he could get as low a rate as the Standard Oil gets from Whiting to East St. Louis. Whiting is in Indiana, but the railroads treat the rate from that point to East St. Louis as wholly in Illinois, and not subject to the inspection of the Interstate Commerce Commission, because Whiting is within the "switching limits" of Chicago.

BY A VOTE of 27 to 50, the House in committee of the whole yesterday, having the army appropriation bill under consideration, refused to strike out an item of one million dollars for the purpose of paying the expenses of regiments, battalions, squadrons and batteries of the organized militia to participate in such brigade or division encampments as may be established for the field instruction of the troops of the regular army. Representative Hay, of Virginia, insisted that the manoeuvres did not amount to much, and said that so far as the manoeuvres held in Virginia were concerned, they were a farce. He contended that the encampment was of little good to the national guard. What Mr. Hay said was but the observation of all sensible men, who witnessed the manoeuvres referred to.

THE MANASSAS JOURNAL in referring to the beginning of the 108th volume of the Gazette kindly reproduces what the latter had to say for itself on the beginning of the new year. The Journal, while young in years, was a good paper at its birth. It has long since become a fixed Virginia institution, and improves with its years. It is one of our most valued exchanges.

BECAUSE of the decision of the Norfolk authorities to put tramps at work on the Jamestown Boulevard the aforesaid tramps are giving the city a wide berth. If they were put to work cleaning the streets of the city or doing other work they would also give Alexandria a wide berth.

THE County Council of London has a scheme on hand for an outlay of $27,000,000 for a vast electrical supply undertaking. London's experiences, however, in the municipalization of public utilities have not made a favorable showing, nor have they anywhere else.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Jan. 10.

In the House today Mr. J. C. Hiden, secretary of Mr. Rixey, introduced in Mr. Rixey's name a bill to pay to E. Scott Arrington, of Manassas, Prince William county, Va., the sum of five thousand dollars for injuries suffered by reason of defects in an elevator on the 12th of October 1905, without negligence on his part while discharging his duties on an elevator in the Treasury building.

The milk producers who ship milk into Washington are considerably stirred up over the bills introduced in the House by Mr. Babcock and Senator Gallinger in the Senate "to regulate the production and sale of milk and cream in and for the District of Columbia." The two bills are identical. The most objectionable feature to the producers is section six of the bill, which provides that milk or cream shall not be offered for sale in the District of Columbia, otherwise than as sour milk or buttermilk, unless the same has been properly cooled immediately after milking to a temperature below fifty degrees Fahrenheit, and thereafter been kept continously below that temperature. The Milk Producers Association of Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia, representing over one thousand producers, met here Tuesday, and after throughly consadering the bill appointed a committee to go before the subcommittee of the committee on the District of Columbia and protest against the passage of this bill in its present shape, and especially the cooling feature. They claim that the enactment of this provision would put every producer in Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia out of business. It is claimed that milk could only be reduced to the requisite degree of coolness and kept so by having refrigerator wagons and refrigerator cars. Spring water would not get the temperature low enough, and if it were gotton low enough it would be impossible to keep it so with the present railroad cars. Mr Hiden has been promised that the subcommittee having the bill in charge will give the committee from the Virginia, Maryland and District of Columbia Milk Producers Association a hearing before they make a report on the bill. It is hoped that the passage of the bill may be prevented at this session of Congress.

At the close of the Spanish war a bill was passed by Congress allowing officers transportation and subsistence and one day's pay for every 20 miles traveled from the point where they were mustered out of service to their homes or the place where they were mustered in. Subsequently a bill was passed allowing officers but 4 cents a mile and traveling expenses from the point of their discharge to their homes. Now many of the officers are petitioning Congress to pay them the difference between the amount they received under the second bill and that they would have received under the provisions of the first bill, and a bill was introduced in the House to refer the claims to the Court of Claims. The House committee on war claims yesterday killed the bill.

The House leaders today abolished, as far as the House is able, the rank of Lieutenant General of the army after 1909. This was done by the committee on rules bringing in a rule making germane an amendment to the army appropriation bill, which was agreed to by the House. A proviso to this effect was knocked out of the bill yesterday by a point of order.

The House committee on foreign affairs today favorably reported the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill, carrying $3,138,477, a decrease of $65,000 from the appropriation for the current year. The bill recommends that the fourteen ministers, who receive less than $10,000 a year be all given that amount. The committee recommends an increase of $14,000, for clerk hire for the Secretary of State, who asked $70,000 for this purpose.

Mr. Rixey has presented to the House a paper to accompany the bill for the relief of William R. Stabb. Also, a petition of Alexandria Council, No. 33, Junior Order United America Mechanics, favoring restriction of immigration.

OFFICIALS AND TRAINMEN RESPONSIBLE.

The coroner's jury which has been investigating the death of 43 people in the wreck on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at Terra Cotta, a suburb of Washington, on December 30, brought in a verdict last night holding eight railroad officials and trainmen responsible for the disaster. The men accused are: Wm. E. McCauly, assistant division operator at Baltimore; T. F. Dent, night train dispatcher, Baltimore; J. W. Kelly, jr., division trainmaster, Baltimore; Harry H. Hildebrand, engineer of No. 2120; Frank F. Hoffmier, conductor of No. 2120; B. L. Vermillion, engineer of train No. 66 (the wrecked train); George W. Nagle, conductor of train No. 66; William Dutrow, operator at Silver Springs.

The verdict declared that the deaths were caused "by impact, due to the act of Operator William Dutrow in displaying an improper signal to the crew of train 2120," and directs that Dutrow be held for the action of the grand jury, and the jury also held the others already mentioned as responsible in a lesser degree for the deaths. The jury arraigned the block system on the Baltimore and Ohio as not affording satisfactory protection to the lives and property of its patrons, arraigned the system of wages paid the operators and signal men on the road and recommended that all block signal stations be kept open 24 hours a day and no additional duties given the operators aside from working the signals and attending to the telegraphic duties.

Hildebrand, Hoffmeier, Vermillion, Nagle and Dutrow were present when the verdict was rendered and were arrested.

Today's Telegraphic News

Earthquake Shocks and Explosion.

Williamsport, Pa., Jan. 10.—Reports from Harrisburg, Pittsburg, Blairsville, and Clearfield tend to confirm the belief that the explosion of a powder mill at Canoe Creek, Blair county, between four and five o'clock this morning, was either the result of the earthquake shocks distinctly felt here or was coincidental with it. For a time it was thought that the shock of the explosion was what had been mistaken for the earthquake.

From all of the cities mentioned above come reports of three distinct shocks (four were felt at Harrisburg) some of which continued for two or three seconds.

Here buildings were badly shaken. Scores of people were awakened from sleep. Dishes rattled and persons walking in the streets say the earth trembled.

Details of the explosion at Canoe Creek are lacking. It is said, however, that the plant was entirely destroyed. It is not known if there was any loss of life. It is certain, however, that the fatalities were few, if any, as there was no night force working.

Hollidaysburg, Pa., Jan. 10.—The plant and building of the Standard Powder Company of Pittsburg, located at Hornell Station, four miles distance from Hollidaysburg, were destroyed by an explosion early today.

No lives were lost. The explosion was caused by a fire, which started in one of the buildings.

The damage done the plant will exceed $100,000.

The report of the explosion was heard at a distance of 25 miles.

The residence of John Walls, one mile away from the plant, was almost wrecked. The house of August Cooper, several hundred yards away, also went down from the force of the concussion.

A fire is now in progress, and the flames are eating their way towards a storehouse where 5,000 kegs of powder and two carloads of dynamite are stored.

Traffic has been suspended on the Williamsburg branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the inhabitants of the Frankstown Valley are fleeing from an anticipated explosion.

Further particulars from the scene of the explosion indicate that the fire is now under control and that a change in the wind has removed the storehouse from the danger zone. Ten buildings were totally destroyed at the powder plant, and about 35 farm houses in the Frankstown Valley were damaged.

The awful concussion of the explosion was heard or felt in several towns of Blair, Centre, Huntingdon, and Bedford counties, some of them forty miles away, and inquiries are pouring in from these places.

The fact that no lives were lost is deemed miraculous. Five thousand kegs of powder went up in the explosion.

Later reports indicate that the explosion was not the result of earthquake.

Altoona, Pa., Jan. 10.—The shock of the earthquake reported from Williamsport, today, was also felt distinctly at Huntington and Lewistown. In both of these towns windows rattled and people of the upper stories felt the trembling.

Baltimore, Jan. 10.—Distinct earthquake shocks were felt in a number of points in Baltimore county today. Reports vary as to the duration of the seismic disturbance, which occurred at about 5:45 a. m.

Impending Steamship War.

London, Jan. 10.—Shipping circles were greatly interested today in a telegram printed in the Manchester Dispatch saying. "The moving of the White Star Line to Southampton foreshadows the collapse of the shipping trust. J. Pierpont Morgan will soon retire, and the trust will be reconstructed under White Star control. The White Star line will buy the allied companies at an easy figure when the collapse of the trust occurs, and thus establish itself in the position of offering a formidable front to its rivals.

It was learned by the correspondent of the Publishers Press that the source of this statement is in German shipping circles.

Both the Hamburg-American and North German Lloyd lines are opposed to the removal of the White Star line from Liverpool to Southampton. They are suspicious that the trust intends to break with them, and they hope, by secretly spreading reports detrimental to the trust, to bring Bruce Ismay, head of the trust, and Morgan into serious disagreement, thus interfering with the efficient management of the trust and increase the business of the German lines.

In shipping circles the belief is growing that the shipping trust will not dissolve, but that it will not continue much longer to guarantee dividends to the German lines, leaving them to shift for themselves. In this event the enemy of the fast German boats would not be the trust, with its comparatively slow vessels, but the Cunard line with its new ocean greyhounds, and it is predicted that a lively rate war between these lines will follow.

Missing Steamer.

New York, Jan. 10.—With no word for days from the missing steamship Ponce, overdue eleven days from Ponce, Porto Rico, and nothing heard from the steamship Macacas, due here several days ago from Trinidad, the belief grows in shipping circles that the two steamships met in collision on the seas and sank together. The ponce carried a crew of fifty-two and seven passengers, and the Macaras carried a crew of forty and twelve passengers. Officers of both steamships lines held a consultation today and agreed that there was little hope for either vessel. The belief that the Macaras has the Ponce in tow, is now practically abandoned. The Macaras left Trinidad on December 29, and has not been seen since. Two steamships in from Southern ports today, reported that they had not sighted either of the lost steamships. The revenue cutters Mohawk and Onondago left Norfolk this morning to resume their search for the Ponce and the Macaras. The cutter Seminole and battleship Connecticut are at sea searching for the missing vessels.

The Thaw Case.

New York, Jan. 10.—Justice Fitzgerald in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court refused to sign an order calling for a special panel of 150 talesmen from which to draw the jury to try Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White. The reason given was that District Attorney Jerome failed to file an affidavit in reply to the affidavit of John B. Gleason, of Thaw's counsel, objecting to the special panel on the ground that it will be impossible for Thaw to get a fair trial in New York. The affidavit should have been filed on Tuesday but Assistant Attorney Garvan neglected to file it. Jerome left the room without getting the order signed.

When very young the child was exceptionally bright, but for two years his mentality had been failing and he was little better than a dotard when he died.

The situation is like a keg of gun powder and a flash will set it off. At yesterday's session of court, twenty men on each side, armed to the teeth, were lined up ready for anything that came. Killed by His Son.

A terrible tragedy was committed in the lower portion of Culpeper county early yesterday morning near Kellyville. James Smith, a colored man, was shot and instantly killed by his son, George Smith, who, just previous to killing his father, shot and, it is now supposed, mortally wounded his brother, Frank Smith. The facts, as near as can be gathered, are that the negroes, father and sons, had been drinking and a quarrel ensued between the Smith brothers, when George Smith was struck by his brother, Frank, who in turn was shot by George. In trying to shoot his brother again, the old man, the father of the boys, interfered to protect Frank, when George turned his pistol upon his parent, sending two balls into his abdomen. The old man died as he fell to the ground. The murderer escaped to the woods.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of Opium, Chloroform, or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in Cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems, has welcomed the Pure Food and Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against Opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, Jan. 10.

SENATE.

Immediately after the conclusion of routine business in the Senate today, Mr. LaFollette resumed his efforts to secure the passage of his bill limiting the hours of service of men employed in moving and operating railway trains. Under a previous agreement the vote is to be taken this evening.

Mr. La Follette submitted a number of communications from national organizations of engineer, firemen, conductors and brakemen, soliciting against suggestions that employes of railways be penalized. They wished such punishment confined to the corporations.

Mr Teller, in declaring that the bill would not become a law at this Congress, suggested that it be sent back to committee for further consideration.

The legislative appropriation bill was reported to the Senate today. The bill carries a total appropriation of $30,855,333, which is an increase of $225,450 over what was passed by the House, less by $359,692 than the estimates submitted by the governments, and $687,348 in excess of the appropriations for 1907.

One of the items of increase recommended by the Senate committee makes an appropriation of $525,000 for the preparation of monthly reports on the cotton production and periodical reports on the domestic and foreign consumption of that staple. The House appropriation for this purpose was $400,000.

HOUSE.

The appropriation committee won out in the House today in a fight with the committee on military affairs for jurisdiction of the appropriation for the erection of barracks and quarters for troops of the sea coast artillery. Consequently the item of $1,800,000 for that purpose was knocked out by the army appropriation bill under consideration.

Mr. Morrell sought unsuccessfully to have included in the army appropriation bill, on amendment that the canteen be re-established in the army.

The trip of Gen. Wood, half way round the world at government expense in search of medical treatment, from the Philippines about a year ago, bore fruit in the House today. Upon a point of order raised by Mr. Mann, provisions that medical treatment of officers and enlisted men by regulation or contract was knocked out of the army appropriation bill.

SCHOOL BOOKS.

A sensation was caused yesterday upon the resumption of the school book investigation by the legislative committee in Richmond. R. O. Bell, of the Bell Book and Stationery Company, declared that State Librarian J. P Kennedy had been paying much more for books to the firm of Putnam and Son, of New York, than the same books could be bought for at retail in the local book stores.

Immediately after he had left the stand three employees of the state library were called, and these witnesses not only bore out the contention of Mr. Bell, but declared that Mr Kennedy had remarked that Putnam & Son had offered him $2,500 to write a history of Virginia. In this connection witnesses declared that Mr. Kennedy received a check for $500 from Putnam & Son on account of the history he was to write, but returned it because he had not decided whether to attempt the undertaking.

Mr. Bell quoted instances in which the State had paid $1 50 and $2 for books which the Richmond houses retailed for 50 cents, and on which 38 cents had been quoted in other competitions. Mr. Bell declared that his firm and other firms wished to bid, but were not given the opportunity.

Librarian Kennedy was at Harrisonburg, but Chairman Byrd telegraphed him to come to Richmond today to testify.

S. P. Patterson and C. V. Meredith, both members of the school board, were placed on the stand in the afternoon.

Mr. Meredith said that the library board was merely a figurehead in the matter. The superintendent of public instruction prepared the lists, he said, and then turned them over to the librarian to make the purchases. Kennedy, he said, was given carte blanche to make purchases, and that he acted as agent for the board and was alone responsible.

Mr. Kennedy, when interviewed in Harrisonburg last night, said, as to the report that the Putnams wanted him to write a history of Virginia, it was absolutely false, as he has never been approached by a representative of that firm with any such proposition. He was asked by an agent of another concern to write such a history, but declined on the ground that he didn't have the time to undertake it, wishing to give his whole time to the State library.

The President will not be able to attend the meeting, but promised to send a letter. The committee which called on him included Gen. Marcus J. Wright, of Tennessee; Thomas Nelson Page, of Washington, D. C.; Judge Charles B. Howrey of the Court of Claims; Mrs. Walsh, of Mississippi, and Mrs. Young, of Arkansas.

For this section fair tonight and Friday, warmer; fresh southerly winds.

Pleasant Social Gathering.

The residence of ex-Mayor Strauss, on Prince street, near Royal, was the scene of a pleasant gathering last night of friends and acquaintances from this city and Washington. The reception was in honor of Miss Carrie B. Fay, of Baltimore, niece of Mrs. Strauss. The host and hostess had anticipated everything that could in any way add to the pleasure of their guests, and all present experienced a delightful evening. A beautiful buffet lunch was served and Mr. and Mrs. Strauss and Miss Fay vied in looking after the comfort of each guest. The company departed at a late hour profuse in their expressions of the delightful experience of the evening and with many good wishes for their host and hostess and their guest, Miss Fay, in whose honor the reception was given. Those present were: Messrs. William Machelous, William Cohen, Sol Abbott, L. Lobe, Sam Steinberger, Harry Sanger, S. Richards, M. Blumenfield, R Blumenfield, Jos Dreyfus, Miss Eva Dreifus, Miss Blanch Stern, Miss Clara Strauss, Miss Jennie Sanger, Miss Ada Dreyfus, and Miss Josie Sternberg, of Washington; Messrs. Charles Blondheim, Ben Wollberg, S. Wollberg, L. Ruben and L. H. Thompson; Misses Beckie Wollberg, Rena Kaufmann, Tony Wollberg, Amelia Wollberg, Pauline Pretzfelder, Jennie Blondheim, Carrie Blondheim and Sarah Ruben, all of this city.

Was it an Apparition ?

A gentleman, who lives on Duke street near Royal, while on his way home a few nights since at about 10 o'clock, was accosted in front of St. Paul's Church by a colored man who respectfully asked him if the church was open. The gentleman becoming suspicious immediately assumed the offensive and told the man that he knew the church was not open at that time of the night. The colored man's manner became grave and the gentleman seeing that he was in earnest led him to the iron gates of the church and said, "You see that the gates are locked; of course the church is not open." The colored man then manifested fright and said, "That gate is locked, sir, but as sure as I am standing here I saw a woman, robed in white, with a train reaching almost to the sidewalk, enter that church door and disappear just as I reached this spot." The man held to his story and could not be made to believe that he was mistaken. They then both left hurriedly for their respective homes.

A New Settlement.

The new settlement established by the District of Columbia authorities in the lower end of the District opposite Alexandria is now inhabited, and when lighted up at night it looks like a place of several thousand inhabitants. The big building of the almshouse, workhouse, reform school and other buildings are large structures, and at this season of the year when the trees along the river are denuded of foliage, the lights can be plainly seen from this city. One of the larger buildings from the river on a dark night has all the outlines, in lights, of a big side-wheel steamer, and it attracts considerable attention from the passengers on the boats passing up and down the river.

Inefficient Service.

Representatives of the Southern Railway Company appeared before the Corporation Commission in Richmond yesterday in connection with the old Manassas case, the road being charged with giving insufficient service. Practically all the testimony was given by civil engineers of the road, and was given with the idea of showing that the company is doing the very best it can under the natural conditions. The examination was conducted by Alfred Thom, attorney for the Southern. No action was taken by the commission, though it is probable that some order may be issued later as to the betterment of the service.

The Wright Case.

Mr. James E. Clements, of Alexandria county, yesterday partially argued before the Court of Appeals at Richmond the application for a new trial for John Wright, colored, who was to have been hanged December 14 last for assault upon Miss Mabel Risley near Luna Park. Commonwealth's Attorney Crandall Mackey and the attorney general of Virginia will oppose the motion. There are three other indictments hanging over Wright's head, one for murder, one for murderous assault, and one for assault.

Week of Prayer.

There was a good attendance at Trinity M. E. Church last night where services in connection with the week of prayer were held. The meeting was conducted by Rev Dr W. F. Fisher, of the Baptist Church, and the subject for consideration was home and foreign missions. The services tonight will be held in Grace Church, and they will be conducted by Rev. J. A. Jeffers. The theme for the evening will be "The Coming of the Kingdom."

Charter.

A charter has been granted by the State Corporation Commission to Grafton & Son, Incorporated, of West Falls Church, Va. The sum of $20,000 is named as the capital stock. The object of the company is to conduct a roofing business in all its branches. The officers are E. W. Grafton, president; Elizabeth Grafton, vice president; A. F. Campbell, secretary; John A. Koons, treasurer; C. F. Nesbit, Brooklyn, N. Y., and J. W. Taylor. The other directors are Washingtonians.

W. C. T. U.

The regular business meeting of the Allison W. C. T. U. was held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Children's Home on Duke street. On account of the week of prayer there will be no prayer meeting at the Home to night.

On New Year's day the Alexandria Gazette began its 108th annual volume. The Gazette is one of the oldest and most respectable of American newspapers. The Register takes off its hat to it.—[Danville Register.

The Cameron Club.

Miss Richards will deliver her second talk of this season under the auspices of the Cameron Club on Friday night, Jan. 11, at 8 o'clock. At the close of the last meeting it was announced from the platform that the evening of cold and discomfort just experienced would not be repeated and that through the Alexandria Gazette notice of future meetings would be given. The Club now takes pleasure in announcing that those in charge of the hall have stated that the furnace has been put in proper condition and warmth and comfort are assured; therefore the meetings will continue to be held at Lee Camp Hall.

Opera House.

The Opera House was crowded to its fullest capacity last night to witness the production of "A Break for Liberty," written on the life of the Biddle brothers. The drama was well presented, the various parts being interpreted in a careful manner. Among the members of the company was an Alexandria favorite, Miss Mabelle VanTassel, who was in this city with the Chauncey Southern Company. Miss VanTassel played the part of Mrs. Selton, the warden's wife, in her usual fine manner. The other members of the company were well-up in their respective parts.

The public is invited to attend.

Accident to a Conductor.

Joseph Mayer, a freight conductor on the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, fell while helping to switch cars in the Potomac freight yards, about 1 o'clock this morning, and a wheel of one of the cars passed over his left leg, severing the foot. He was taken to Washington and placed in the Providence Hospital. Mayer lives in Richmond and he is about 30 years of age.

Death of Mrs. Candler.

Mrs. Catharine Candler, wife of Mr. William Candler, died at her home on north St. Asaph street this morning. The deceased had recently been critically ill. Mrs Candler was a native of Canada, and was 48 years old. She had resided in this city during the past seven or eight years.

The Murphy-Corbett Fight.

Tommy Murphy, of Harlem, easily outpointed Young Corbett in a six-round fight, with no decision, at the National Athletic Club in Philadelphia last night. After the first round, in which honors were even, Murphy outgeneraled and out-fought the Denver pugilist, who was knocked to his knees with a right-handed jolt on his jaw in the second round. Murphy had him groggy on the ropes as this round ended, but he could not hit hard enough to put him out. As the fight progressed, Corbett tired, because of the swift pace, yet he tried desperately to land a knockout punch. Murphy, however, was too careful, and, taking no chances, he finished the job, with plenty to spare.

THURSDAY EVENING, JAN. 10, 1907

Fire in Stove Works.

Fire gutted a major portion of the large plant of the Michigan Stove Works, in Detroit, Tuesday evening, causing a loss estimated at $750,000, while the entire plant was insured for but $380,000.

Upward of 15,000 gas and coal stoves were ruined, and of the tremendous plant, covering an area of 10 or 12 acres, only the office building, the foundries and part of the storage buildings were saved, less than two-thirds of the entire establishment.

Several firemen were injured by falling debris and a half dozen spectators were hurt when the horses attached to one of the fire department wagons ran away into the enormous crowd that lined the street opposite the burning plant.

One of the features of the fire was the collapse of a huge stove, as large as the average house, which was one of the exhibits in the Manufactures Building at the World's Fair in 1893. It stood upon a pedestal in front of the plant and was crushed down by a falling wall.

Dispatches today say one man lost his life by the fire.

No Island Fort in the Chesapeake.

The House committee on appropriations finished its consideration of fortifications yesterday, and decided to report a bill carrying an appropriation of $4,411,000. This sum is $357,000 below the amount appropriated last year, and is nearly $7,000 less than the estimate submitted by the War Department.

The rejection by the committee of the plan of the Taft board to build an island at the mouth of Chesapeake Bay for defense was probably the most important step taken by the committee. This project was first referred to a subcommittee which recommended that an appropriation be made for a survey and the securing of full information, but the full committee refused to accept the suggestion, and eliminated the proposition entirely from the bill.

Does Coffee disagree with you? Probably it does! Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. "Health Coffee" is a clever combination of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real Coffee, remember, in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet its flavor and taste matches closely old Java and Mocha Coffee. If your stomach, heart, or kidneys can't stand Coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing, and satisfying. It's safe even for the youngest child. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggist.

Make a note now to get Ely's Cream Balm if you are troubled with nasal catarrh, hay fever or cold in the head. It is purifying and soothing to the sensitive membranee that line the air-passages. It is made to cure the disease, not to fool the patient by a short, deceptive relief. There is no cocaine nor mercury in it. Do not be talked into taking a substitute for Ely's Cream Balm. All druggists sell it. Price 50c. Mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.
